

RAP Update

October to December 2024

Relationships <

Developing guiding principles for future engagement

We engaged Caroline Martin, who is a direct descendant of the Briggs family and Custodian of Boonwurrung Country, to support our work to engage Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations. Undertaking a stakeholder analysis to inform our approach, with the goal of developing guiding principles for future engagement.

Opportunities <

Breast cancer fact sheet

We developed a resource with information about breast cancer statistics and risk factors for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women. The resource is an action that was developed through community consultation. The resource can be accessed here and will be available through the website, included in the resources order form and will be shared as part of community events.

Acknowledgement of Country

We updated our Acknowledgement of Country and Welcome to Country protocol to be more inclusive of reconciliation principles and include BreastScreen's new Acknowledgement of Country.

Display of RAP artwork and Acknowledgement plaques

Clinic visits undertaken by the Relationships team have resulted in the RAP artwork being displayed at 33 fixed sites and the Acknowledgement of Country plaques at 29 sites. There are still a few more visits to go!

Board report on RAP

We submitted the first RAP report to the October Board meeting. The RAP is reported three times a year to Board, as part of a broader D&I update (which includes the Disability Action Plan and Rainbow Tick).
